

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A light guide is constructed to include two light guide elements abutted against each other, a plurality of grooves engraved on one light guide element and forming a plurality of light passages in between the two light guide elements, and a 5 message put upon the one light guide element inside the light passages.